THE AIM OF THE EXTENSION TEACHING IN THE UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER

Every community contains numbers of men and women who wish to pursue serious study, but must do it, if at all, after ordinary business hours.

To meet the demand for such study, the Board of Education, Mechanics Institute and other private organizations conduct evening classes of elementary or high-school grade.

To the University falls the obligation and privilege to meet the demand for college studies, so far as its resources will permit.

The subjects offered in this Announcement are identical with courses given students in regular attendance at the University; they are offered by the regular University faculty; they require an equivalent period of instruction and carry full University credit.

The object in these courses is three-fold: To offer work of cultural type to interested groups; to give such technical and business training as properly falls within the field of the University; to offer professional training to public school teachers, social workers, medical groups, etc.

Students enrolled in the Division of Extension Teaching, while not required, are nevertheless encouraged to work for a regular degree granted by the University.

The University seeks to offer the people of Rochester the same opportunities for college training given the students in regular attendance.

ADMISSION

No examination is required for admission to courses offered in the Division of Extension Teaching. Applicants not qualified to pursue University courses with profit are directed to other educational agencies. All courses are open without restriction, unless it is otherwise stated, to both men and women. Students will be classified as regular or special students.

REGULAR STUDENTS

Regular students are those who satisfy the regular entrance requirements of the University and are hereby recognized as candidates for graduation. For detailed information regarding admission see pp. 56 sq. in the 1921-22 Annual Catalogue of the College of Arts and Science, a copy being furnished upon request.

Men students seeking regular admittance will make application to the Dean of College for Men, women students to the Dean of College for Women. Upon satisfying the entrance requirements, the applicant will be issued a certificate of matriculation.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

All students not admitted by their respective deans as regular students are automatically classified as special students by the Director upon enrollment. A student entering as a special may transfer subsequently to the regular classification by satisfying the entrance requirements.

ACADEMIC CREDIT

In general, all courses offered in extension teaching are regular university courses and are awarded full college credit. Credit will be given for the number of hours officially published with the course, and for no more.

With the consent of their respective Deans, men and women students already matriculated in the University may register for courses offered in the Division of Extension Teaching.

No student engaged in a full time occupation may enroll for more than three hours for credit each semester without special consent of the Director.

UNIT OF INSTRUCTION

The unit of instruction is one hour a week for one term. Three-hour courses are divided between Tuesday and Thursday evenings, one-hour courses being scheduled to follow these. Specialized professional courses for public school teachers are provided for Saturday morning, and occasional courses in the late afternoon.

GRADES

The scale of marks for recording grades is as follows:

I, 90-100%; II, 85-89%; III, 80-84%; IV, 70-79%; V, 60-69%, passed but inferior; VI, 40-59%, ordinary failure; VII, 0-39%, hopeless failure.

Grades will be mailed at the close of each term, provided the student furnishes the University Recorder with a stamped and addressed envelope for this purpose.

GRADUATION

Regulations controlling the award of the B.A., B.S., and M.A. degrees will be found on pp. 73 sq. of the 1920-1921 Annual Catalogue of the University. Students working for a degree will consult their respective deans regarding their course requirements. Certain courses of an advanced character, upon the approval of the Dean of College for Men, may be carried with credit toward the Master's degree.

ADVANCED STANDING

Regularly enrolled students will, upon petition, be credited by their respective deans with work done at other colleges, provided an official record is presented.

GRADUATES OF NORMAL SCHOOLS

Graduates of recognized state normal schools, who have taken the full two years normal course based upon four full years of high school work, may register for the degree Bachelor of Science in Education, and receive a year's college credit for their professional work and additional credit for all college work of a cultural non-professional type, and, to a limited degree, for successful teaching experience after graduation from the normal school. For those who register for this degree the student's dean and the head of the Department of Education will arrange a program planned to further the specific cultural and professional needs of the individual applicant.

REGISTRATION

Students who expect to attend courses in the Division of Extension Teaching are required to register in person at the office of the Director, Anderson Hall, at the beginning of each term during the periods indicated in the calendar (p. 2).

Fees must be paid at the time of registration and a ticket of admission to each course secured for presentation to the instructor.

Prospective students will be permitted to attend one class meeting of a course before registration and payment of fees. Instructors are required to exclude a student not presenting a class admission ticket no later than the student's second attendance upon the classroom.

Courses scheduled for the entire year must be registered and paid for as a unit at the beginning of the first term.

Changes in registration will be made exclusively in the office of the Director.

FEES¹

Each student pays a registration fee of $1.00 for each term. Matriculated students in the College are not required to pay this fee.

The tuition fee varies with the several courses as announced in the description of the courses. In general, a one-hour credit course carries a $6.00 fee each term, each additional hour of credit entailing a $6.00 fee per hour.

Science courses carry a laboratory fee.

An additional fee of $1.00 is required for late registration.

Fees are payable in the office of the Director upon registration, checks being made payable to the University of Rochester. No instructor is authorized to receive student fees.

The full amount of the registration and tuition fee will be returned to students whenever the University finds it necessary to withdraw a course. In other cases, refunds when allowed will be in the following proportions:

During first week of instruction	100%
During 2nd and 3rd weeks	80%
During 4th and 5th weeks	60%
During 6th and 7th weeks	40%
During 8th week	20%

Fees are not returnable except by personal direction of the Director, and only when a withdrawal from the University is caused by sickness or causes entirely beyond the control of the student. The registration fee of $1.00 is not returnable.

THE LIBRARY

The Library, located in Sibley Hall, contains nearly 90,000 volumes, including a circulating musical library of about 7,000, the latter being housed at the Eastman School of Music of The University of Rochester. The Library is open from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. daily throughout the academic year, and from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. during vacations, except on Sundays and on legal holidays that are observed by the college.

THE ART GALLERY

The Memorial Art Gallery, containing a fine collection of pictures, the Art Library, a print collection, etc., is open to all students of the University, a student ticket being presented to admit them at all times that the Gallery is open for exhibition.

THE SCIENCE LABORATORIES

The Eastman Laboratories for Biology, Physics and Physiology, the Geology Laboratory in Sibley Hall, Reynolds Laboratory for chemistry, and the Psychological Laboratory in Anderson Hall offer full privileges to students in the Division of Extension Teaching.

OFFICE OF EXTENSION TEACHING

The office of the Division of Extension Teaching is located in Anderson Hall, Room 33.

The office is open daily, 8:30 A. M.-5:30 P. M., Saturday, 8:30 A. M.-1:00 P. M. During the period of registration (see calendar) it is open from 7:00 P. M.-9:30 P. M., and thereafter from 7:30 P. M.-9:30 P. M. each Tuesday and Thursday.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION 1922-1923

Courses not listed in this Announcement may be given upon the request of any responsible individual or group willing to organize a sufficiently large class to insure the success of the undertaking. Provided satisfactory arrangements can be made, specially organized classes may be taught at the time and place selected by a petitioning group.

A minimum registration of fifteen students is required in a course before a class will be formed, except as special exception may be made. The University reserves the right to limit the registration in any course when the interest of the work seems to require it.

The time of meeting is stated with the description of each course. An effort will be made to arrange minor conflicts.

THE DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION

NOTE: Roman numerals indicate the several terms of the college year.

Courses marked with an asterisk may be selected only with the consent of the instructor.

E indicates that the course is offered only in the Extension Division.

ASTRONOMY

Assistant Professor FAIRBANKS

1 General Astronomy. A descriptive, non-mathematical course dealing with the earth as a heavenly body; principal motions of the planets and stars; systems of coördinates, comets and meteors; identification of constellations and brighter stars; astronomical instruments; foremost theories concerning the cosmogony; etc. The three-inch Harkness portable and the six-inch Trevor telescopes are available for observations. Trigonometry and High School physics recommended.

Assistant Professor Fairbanks.

- I. II. One hour per week; credit two hours; fee $6.00 each term; 8: 20-9: 10 p. m. Thursday; E 12.

BIOLOGY

Professor MERRELL

1E Organic Evolution. Definition, evidences; other biological principles which confirm evolution or are illuminated by it. Rise of evolutionary thought; factors (causes) of evolution according to Lamarck, Darwin, Weismann, Mendel, deVries and others. Lectures illustrated by stereopticon and demonstrations.

Professor Merrell.

- I. II. One hour a week; credit two hours; fee $6.00 each term; 8:20-9:10 p. m. Tuesday; E 32.

CHEMISTRY

Professor CHAMBERS, Assistant Professor LINE and Mr. YODEN

The usual $18.00 laboratory fee in courses 1, 2, 4 and 5, $15.00 in course 3, and a breakage deposit of $5.00 will be charged each semester in addition to the tuition fees given below.

The laboratories will be open Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:00-10:00 p. m. and Saturday afternoon from 1:00-6:00 p. m. Hours selected for laboratory work must be approved by the instructor in the course.

1 General Chemistry. A careful study of the fundamental principles of chemical science and their practical application to the problems of daily life. The aim of this course is to give the person taking it a better understanding of the things and processes with which he works. It also gives a good preparation for the more special courses in chemistry following. Those not desiring the training that comes from the laboratory work may register for the lectures only.

Professor Chambers.

I. II. Credit eight hours; fee $24.00 each term; 7-8 p. m. T.-Th. and six selected laboratory hours; Reynolds Laboratory.

2 Qualitative Analysis. A study of the chemical properties of the common ions and the application of these to the separation and identification of the ions when present in unknown mixtures. Chemistry 1 or equivalent prerequisite.

Assistant Professor Line.

I. II. Credit eight hours; fee $24.00 each term; 7-8 p. m. T.-Th. and six selected laboratory hours; Reynolds Laboratory.

3 Quantitative Analysis. A general course covering the typical methods used for the determination of the common metallic and non-metallic elements and their important radicals. Wherever possible the substances analyzed are actual commercial products. Chemistry 2 or equivalent prerequisite.

Assistant Professor Line.

I. II. Credit eight hours; fee $24 each term; 8-9:30 p. m. T.-Th. and six selected laboratory hours; Reynolds Laboratory.

4 Organic Chemistry. A general course devoted to the study of the properties, relationship, synthesis, structure, and uses of the most important classes of organic compounds. Persons with the proper laboratory experience in organic chemistry may omit the laboratory work.

Professor Chambers.

I. II. Credit ten hours; fee $30.00 each term; 8-9:30 p. m. T.-Th. and six selected laboratory hours; Reynolds Laboratory.

5 Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis. An elementary course covering the fundamental principles of analytical chemistry and the application of these to the qualitative and quantitative determination of the common metallic and non-metallic radicals in unknown mixtures. One half year is devoted to each. Chemistry 1 prerequisite. Not open to students electing Chemistry 2 or 3.

Assistant Professor Line.

I. II. Credit eight hours; fee $24 each term; 7-8 p. m. T.-Th. and six selected laboratory hours; Reynolds Laboratory.

ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLOGY

Acting Professor FOTH, Assistant Professor SCOTT.

1 Principles of Economics. A study of the fundamental laws governing the production and distribution of wealth. These principles are traced in the workings of factories, banks, railroads, labor unions, corporations, and other important economic organizations.

Acting Professor Foth.

I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7-8:15 p. m. T.-Th.; A 13.

1E Immigration and Immigrant Backgrounds. An intensive survey of the homeland conditions of the larger emigrating national groups, and racial problems presented in the absorption of these in American life. Of fundamental importance for teachers of Americanization classes.

Assistant Professor Scott.

I. and repeated II. Credit two hours; fee $12.00; 4:20-6:00 p. m. Tuesday; A 14.

EDUCATION

See under Psychology and Education

ENGLISH

Professors SLATER and HAVENS, Assistant Professor CURTISS, and Mr. WRIGHT

COURSES IN RHETORIC AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

1 Freshman Rhetoric. A study of the fundamental principles of composition, with frequent practice in writing. In the early part of the year the aims will be the elimination of common errors and the development of some facility in writing; in the latter half of the course, the cultivation of a pleasing style and the increase of vocabulary.

I. II. Three hours a week; credit three hours each term; fee $18.00 each term; 7-8:15 p. m. T.-Th.; A 42.

4 Public Speaking. A practice course in the principles of effective public speaking. Carried throughout the year, although either term may be elected with credit.

I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7-8:15 p. m. T.-Th.; A 45.

COURSES IN ENGLISH LITERATURE

8E Romantic Poets. Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, Keats, and Landor. Romanticism and classicism.

Professor Havens.

I. II. One and one-half hours a week throughout the year; credit three hours; fee $9.00 each term; 7-8:15 p. m. Tuesday; A 16.

13E English Bible. A literary and historical study of the English Old Testament; in the first semester, the historical and prophetic books; in the second semester, the poetical books, including a detailed study of the book of Job. The bearing of the scriptures upon English literature is emphasized.

Professor Slater.

- I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 4: 20-5: 35 p. m. Monday and Wednesday; A 16.

FRENCH

See under Romance Languages

GEOLOGY

Professor CHADWICK

1E Interpretative Geography of New York State. About twenty specific areas of New York, such as the Adirondacks, the Genesee Valley, Long Island, considered each in its geologic setting and its human settlement; the determining effect of earth structure on local history.

Professor Chadwick.

- I. One hour a week; credit one hour; fee $6.00, 8: 20-9: 10 p. m. Tuesday; S.

GREEK

Professor KENDRICK

7 Greek Master Thoughts. A study of the many important conceptions in mythology, science, politics, ethics, philosophy and religion, which Greek thinkers evolved and which are vital in modern civilization. As the lectures are based upon direct quotation from the Greek sources in English translation, the result should be a desirable familiarity with the beauty of Greek imagination in mythology, literature and art; the scope and accuracy of their observation and inferences in science; the keen reasonableness of their speculation in philosophy and religion.

Professor Kendrick.

- I. Two hours a week; credit two hours; fee $12.00; 4:20-6:00 p. m. Wednesday; A 30.

8 Masterpieces of Greek Literature and Art. A companion course to Greek Master Thoughts, showing the interdependence of intellectual progress and formal expression in literature and art. Readings from the Greek Epic, Lyric, Dramatic and Idyllic Poets, Historians, Orators, and Philosophers. The truth and beauty of Greek Art will be traced briefly in the progressive fineness of their achievements in architecture, sculpture, painting and civic art.

Professor Kendrick.

- II. Two hours a week; credit two hours; fee $12.00; 4:20-6:00 p. m. Wednesday; A 30.

HISTORY OF ART

Mr. VON DER LANCKEN and Professor EISERHARDT

NOTE.—Topics in Greek art are treated in Greek 8.

1 History of Art. This course intends to survey in its principal manifestations the whole history of art from ancient to modern times. The first term will be given to the history of ancient and mediaeval art, the second term to the history of renaissance and modern art. The course is best taken as a whole, but either term may be separately elected.

Professor Eiserhardt.

- I. II. One and one-half hours a week throughout the year; credit three hours; fee $9.00 each term; 8:20-9:25 p. m. Tuesday; Art Gallery.

3 Art of France, England, and America. Painting, sculpture, and architecture of France and England from the mediaeval period to modern times.

(1) French art before the XVII century, the classic, romantic, and realistic schools, also the modern movements, including Cubism, Futurism, and Post-Impressionism.

(2) English art before the XVIII century; the portrait painters, the Pre-Raphaelites, and modern art. American art, the decorative art of the American Indian, Colonial architecture, and applied arts. American painting and sculpture.

Mr. Von der Lancken.

- I. II. One and one-half hours a week throughout the year; credit three hours; fee $9.00 each term; 8:20-9:25 p. m. Thursday; Art Gallery.

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

Professors PACKARD and PERKINS, Assistant Professor SCOTT, and Mr. MACKENZIE.

1 Introduction to the History of Western Europe. A survey of European civilization as it has evolved from the civilization of Rome to that of the present day. The work consists of lectures, prescribed reading, and written tests.

Mr. MacKenzie.

- I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7:00-8:15 p. m. T.-Th.; A 14.

3 American History Since 1789. A general course in American History, with special emphasis on the development of political institutions and political parties. The work consists of lectures, prescribed readings and written tests. Particular attention will be devoted to the "Middle Period."

Professor Perkins.

- I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7:00–8:15 p. m. T.–Th.; A 15.

1E Studies in Biography. A series of lectures devoted to the study of the outstanding statesmen of Modern European History. Consideration will be given to the life and times of such men as Bismarck, Disraeli, Cavour, Gladstone and Lloyd George.

Professors Packard, Perkins and Scott.

- I. II. One hour a week; no college credit; fee $6.00 each term; 8:20–9:10 p. m. Th.; A 14.

LATIN

Professor HOEING and Assistant Professor MILLER

Courses in selected Latin writers or methods of teaching Latin will be taught upon petition. See general announcement, p. 12.

MATHEMATICS

Professor GALE, Professor WATKEYS, Mr. WHITFORD.

NOTE.—A comprehensive examination is held in June in each course extending through the year.

1 Elementary Functions. The work of the year consists of a study of the elementary functions, algebraic and transcendental, with emphasis on their applications to various fields of knowledge. It includes plane trigonometry and topics from solid geometry, advanced algebra, analytic geometry, and calculus. Intermediate algebra prerequisite.

Professor Watkeys.

- I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7–8:15 p. m. T.–Th.; A 41.

2 Analytic Geometry and Calculus. This course presents those ideas of these subjects which are indispensable for further mathematical study. This work is not only fundamental in the application of mathematics to physics but it is being increasingly applied in other subjects, for example, in economics and chemistry. Mathematics 1 prerequisite.

Mr. Whitford.

- I. II. Three hours a week; credit six hours; fee $18.00 each term; 7–8:15 p. m. T.–Th.; A 38.

1E Concepts of Modern Mathematics. A series of cultural and informational discussions of modern mathematical problems, presented in a non-technical fashion. Through an historical approach, the student will be led finally to a presentation of the fourth dimension, non-Euclidean geometry, and Einstein's theory of relativity.

- Professor Gale.
- I. One hour a week; credit one hour; fee $6.00; 8:20-9:10 p. m. Thursday; A 30.

2E Descriptive and Projective Geometry. The course consists of an introduction to the methods of descriptive and projective geometry. Among the subjects to be considered are tangents, intersections and developments from descriptive geometry; harmonic section, cross ratio, projections and conic sections from projective geometry.

- I. II. Two hours a week; credit four hours; fee $12.00 each term; 4:20-6:00 p. m. Monday; A 38.

MUSIC

See announcement of The Eastman School of Music of The University of Rochester.

PHILOSOPHY

Professor FORBES

2 Ethics. A study of the fundamental aspects of the moral consciousness, including the moral judgment, moral law, the moral standard, moral progress, moral responsibility, group morality, and the practical principles of conduct. The material is presented in the form of specific problems and is then worked over into systematic form by coöperative effort.

- Professor Forbes.
- I. II. One hour a week; credit two hours; fee $6.00 each term; 8:20-9:10 p. m. Tuesday; A 28.

PHYSIOLOGY

Professor MURLIN, Professor MATTILL, Professor CLOUGH

1E Chemistry of Blood and Urine. A lecture and seminar course on the chemical phases of metabolism in normal and pathological conditions. A survey of the chemistry of nutrition from the standpoint of blood and urine analysis designed for physicians and others having the necessary training. Preliminary meeting for determination of class hour on Friday, September 29, 4:20 p. m. E 30.

- Prof. Mattill.
- I. One two hour period weekly; credit two hours; fee $12.00; time to be arranged; E.

2E Recent Methods in Blood and Urine Analysis. A laboratory course accompanying Course 1E and affording practice in the quantitative analysis of blood and urine by the more recent and approved methods.

Prof. Mattill.

- I. One two hour period weekly; credit one hour; fee $16.00; time to be arranged; E 30.

Course 2E may not be taken without 1E.

3E Endocrinology and Metabolism. A lecture, demonstration and seminar course designed for physicians and physicians' assistants and any others who have had the necessary preliminary training. The recent advances in the physiology of the endocrine organs and in the physiology of metabolism will be emphasized.

Prof. Murlin.

- II. One two hour period weekly; credit two hours; fee $12.00; 4: 20-6: 00 p. m. Friday; E 34.

4E Physiology of the Child. A lecture and seminar course designed primarily for teachers in Health Education and for others with the necessary preliminary training who are interested in the health of children. The physiological basis of health in children with special emphasis upon nutrition and growth.

Prof. Murlin.
